

Transit visa and Schengen visa (without taking up employment)

General Information

- Mexican citizens do not need a transit visa for travelling to Germany nor a Schengen visa and cannot apply for any of these visas.

Exception:

Mexican citizens who want to take an employment of up to 90 days do need to apply for a Schengen visa.

- Third-country nationals subject to visa requirements need a visa for short stays of up to 90 days per half-year in the Schengen area.
- You can move freely within the borders of the Schengen states during your stay with no border controls.
- For the visa application, you need an appointment at the office of BLS International.
- German Honorary Consuls do not provide visa advice.
- The Embassy reserves the right to request additional documents not mentioned in this leaflet.

Requests regarding the state of your application during the standard processing time of two weeks lead to longer processing times and considerable additional work for the visa office and will therefore not be answered.

The following list will help you check whether you have all the required documents for the visa application by ticking them off.

- ➔ All documents listed here must be submitted by the applicant in the requested form and order on his/her appointment at BLS International.
- ➔ Incomplete applications will be decided on a case-by-case basis and may be rejected.

ALL APPLICANTS (including accompanying spouses and children) must present the following documents (paper format Carta or A4):

- One recent biometric passport size photograph (format: see photo specifications) (offered for a fee by BLS)
- Valid original passport (at the time of application, the passport must be valid for at least six (6) months and contain at least two (2) blank pages)
- Application form duly completed and signed
- Additional contact and representation information form duly completed and signed
- Single copy of the information page of your valid passport
- Valid Mexican Residence Permit (FM2 or FM3) (front and back)

All information in this leaflet is based on the findings and assessments of the Embassy at the time of writing. No guarantee can be given for its completeness and correctness, in particular due to changes that have occurred in the meantime.
